

Diversité urbaine

CALL FOR PAPERS

Deadlines: September 15th, 2009 and February 15th, 2010*

Since 2000, the Groupe de recherche diversité urbaine has published a journal that offers junior as well as experienced researchers the opportunity to publish work based on empirical research. Diversité urbaine focuses on ethnicity and ethnic relations, immigration, religious diversity and social dynamics in Quebec and elsewhere in the world. The journal's presence on the Érudit website ensures its international visibility (www.erudit.org/revue/du).

Evaluation process

The journal considers only manuscripts that have not been published or submitted for publication elsewhere. Manuscripts accepted for the evaluation process are read by two external specialists. They must then be revised by the authors, in line with the comments given by the evaluators. The Diversité urbaine team reserves the right to make minor stylistic corrections.

Presentation of manuscripts

- We publish mainly articles in French, except for occasional contributions in English.
- Articles or research notes should be between 4500 and 6000 words, excluding the bibliography.
- The author should include, in both French and English, a biographical note (40 words maximum), a summary (125 words maximum) as well as five key words.
- Please refer to our submission guidelines for further details:
